HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

Well, I see by one of the papers that "Maurine Blank will SINK the role of the Mother" in the Cal Western Opera Workshop performance of "Hansel and Gretel" Saturday at Dana Junior High School.

The capital letters are mine but "sink" is what they said.

My information is that the singer's name is "Blanck," too, but I won't vouch for it . . . Anyhow, I can report with some confidence that "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented three times at Dana—March 2 and 3 in the evening and Sunday, March 4, at 2:15 p.m.

(That other paper 'sank" the production without a trace, giving the wrong dates.)

* * *

As a guy who has been writing for the public prints in San Diego since 1927, I wouldn't be able to live with myself if I didn't make some comment on the passing of Shelley Higgins last week.

I knew the former City Attorney and Superior Court Judge not only as a reporter but as a relative by marriage. I attended his wedding as a small boy, before World War I, and always regarded him as a kindly uncle who could be depended upon for help in an emergency.

He came from my home town in Iowa. He watched me grow up; I watched him working unselfishly for the city he loved and cherished . . . When he died last week at 69, it seemed to mark the end of an era in San Diego—an era in which other idealistic civic-minded citizens gave their services for the public good without much thought of personal profit.

* * *

Many City officials and employees, past and present, and other friends attended memorial services for him Saturday in Bonham Brothers Mortuary.

The Rev. Orno E. Tyler and Mayor Charles C. Dail emphasized that Shelley Higgins was a completely honest man, a devoted public servant who worked unselfishly for the city.

I can testify to the truth of their statements.

Shelley Higgins fought for San Diego water development for 40 years. He was one of the pioneers who foresaw the need of Colorado River water here and did something about it during the 1920's.

He was an implacable foe of land pirates who sought to feather their own nests at the expense of the city and, naturally, he made enemies . . . But the newspapermen who observed him in action over a period of years are unanimous in agreeing that he was a high-minded gentleman of the old school—U. of Michigan, '10—who put his city first and himself second.

My old colleague, Dick Mansfield, collaborated with him in writing a book, "This Fantastic City, San Diego," completed not long before Higgins died.

I'm looking forward to reading it.

LEAP YEAR—Carole Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wood, 3703 La Cresta Dr., had a birthday yesterday—her first in four years. She was a Leap Year baby, born Feb. 29, 1940. A real birthday every four years has made her feel somewhat underprivileged so far, but the chances are she will feel differently before very long when time stands still for 4-year periods . . . Carole actually is 16 and a 10th grader at Point Loma High.—P. N. staff photo.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS START CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $519,681

San Diego's Red Cross campaign opened today.

Hundreds of volunteers began ringing doorbells throughout the county, distributing coin boxes and canvassing military installations.

They aim to raise $519,681 during the drive, the highest peace-time goal in the history of the organization.

Main speaker at a kick-off luncheon at Hotel San Diego yesterday was Dr. Hugh M. Tiner, president of Pepperdine College, Los Angeles. Appearing as a featured guest was Vaughn Monroe, well-known entertainment personality.

"No other city in the world provides more Red Cross services per capita than San Diego," said Thomas A. Clarkson, campaign chairman. "Red Cross programs will require $1,156,621 throughout the county by the end of the year. The San Diego County chapter will receive $636,940 from American National Red Cross to aid in these services. Through this allocation, this community will receive more than $2 worth of service for every dollar given locally."

Because of the huge disaster spending during the last half of 1955, Red Cross is faced with the necessity of replenishing its disaster reserve, as well as the task of raising the necessary funds to maintain its regular services, Clarkson said.

Clarkson expressed confidence in the success of the drive, because "San Diegans will respond to the call for help issued by Red Cross in the face of its most critical financial situation since World War II."

Each boy must bring his birth certificate or legal proof of his birth date plus $1.50 for Pony League insurance.

There will be an important meeting Friday, March 2 at the Ocean Beach Recreation Center regarding the new rules and regulations etc. President Dale Marks cordially invites all parents and boys to attend.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Our waste sewage water, soon to reach 100 million gallons daily, can with proper planning, supply industry, parks, golf courses, and reclaim part of the half million arid acres in San Diego County.

A Reclamation Plant will reclaim sewage waste water, which is pure and suitable for irrigation of Balboa Park, Mission Bay Park, Mission Valley Golf Course and the new Torrey Pines Golf Courses.

Here are some other pertinent facts:

1. The Rawn Report says the City can put in a plant for City projects, pay for all the piping, bond redemption, interest, etc., and save the taxpayers over 250 thousand dollars annually, besides saving the expensive potable water for higher use. These facts were not given to the public. Why?

2. Competent engineers say we can eliminate the greater part of the 8 million dollar ocean outfall, save up to 60% of all waste water to irrigate city projects, golf courses, parks, etc., and reclaim arid acres for growing grasses, grain, crops, at a great savings.

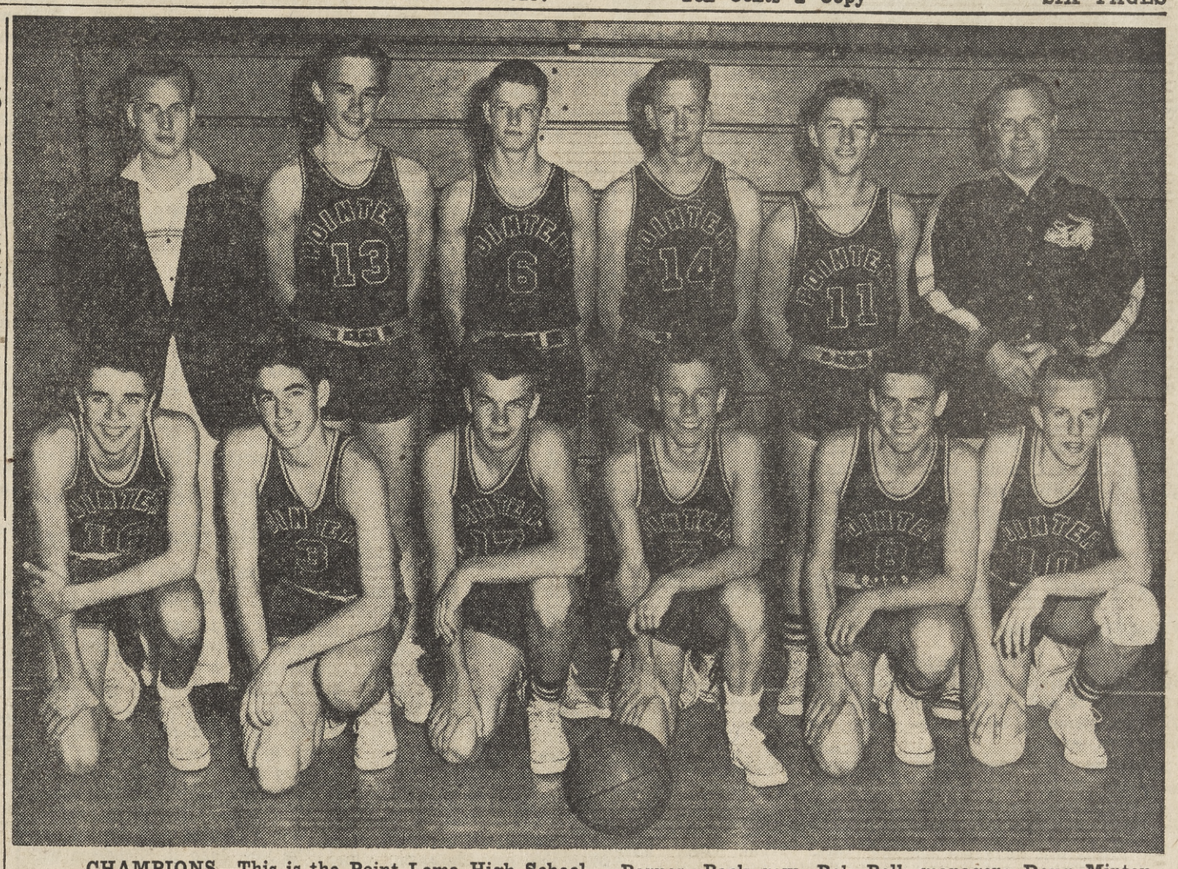

3. The national average reclaiming waste water, including plant, bonds, interest and distribution, is only $45 per million gallons. The city taxpayers are paying approximately $325 per million gallons.

4. I favor a Bond Issue for modern sewerage system with water reclamation included. We must practice good business. It is cheaper.

5. Over 135 case histories are known where reclamation is practiced at great savings, including Golden Gate Park at the mouth of the Feather River where water is plentiful. Letters to Council and the newspapers should express the individual's right to know the true facts before voting, not biased opinions. THOMAS D. DRAKE

ASSEMBLYMAN FRANK LUCKEL CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Assemblyman Frank Luckel, Republican, who has represented the 78th District for five terms, announced this week that "after careful consideration" he will be a candidate for re-election. He said he will cross file on the Democratic ballot.

Luckel has been a long-time resident of Point Loma, living at 1036 Savoy St.

"Actuating me in seeking re-election is the desire to continue giving the service to which my legislative background, experience and seniority qualify me," Luckel said.

"My record sets a pattern which I will continue to follow. This includes an active interest in our fisheries, aircraft industry, boat building and other local enterprises, as well as Mission Bay, beaches, parks, highway and water development.

"My membership on various committees is of especial advantage to the entire county. These include rules, joint legislative process, and joint state capitol. Other committees of which I am a member are conservation planning and public works, public utilities and corporations, and manufacturing, oil and mining industries."

Luckel said that a vital interest overshadowing all others is the heavy tax load, adding: "It has been and will be my principal concern to keep taxes with due bounds. In fact, in contrast to local tax increases, the state sales tax has been held down to three cents."

Luckel recently was given the County Republican Central Committee indorsemen for re-election.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Have you ever been tempted to imitate the bear when the weather gets nasty? Of course, we all have. And it isn't only bad weather that tempts us to hibernate. Unpleasant situations call up the same response.

Doctors have discovered that many sick people, especially those suffering from a prolonged or chronic illness such as tuberculosis, tend to hibernate. Psychologically, they find a hole and crawl into it shutting out the world as much as possible.

It's not surprising ,o fcourse. Suppose your doctor were to tell you that you had TB. Your first reactions might well be shock, helplessness, a feeling of being unable to cope with the problem. People vary greatly in their ability to face the changes that TB brings to their lives.

The illness often has far-reaching distruptive effects in family life and personal plans. Modern treatment, good as it is, has not completely removed the fear of death or permanent disability.

The treatment of disease would be much simpler, doctors tell us, if only reasonable people became ill, or if people remained reasonable after becoming ill. But they don't. Illness itself is unreasonable. Psychological disorder goes along with physical disorder.

Different Reaction

A sick person is not tne same person he was when well and can't be expected to react in the same way.

And so the TB patient may try to winterize himself, protect himself from feeling too much by shutting out or minimizing external demands on his emotions. The degree of withdraw will depend on the particular patient's personality. Where one may simply refuse to be interested in the fact that Junior is flunking geometry, another may regress to a child-like disinterest in anything but his own physical comfort.

Deciding how far a TB patient should be allowed to regress ught well require as much medal judgment as deciding whedicines to give him. The door has to take into account thndividual's personality and motional needs. What the patent says and how he behaves symptoms which the doctor must watch as closely as he watches the fever chart.

PENINSULA PERSONALITIES

By AVIS STONE

Mrs. Marian Grimes has returned to her home on Sunset Cliffs Blvd. from a three-month visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Crowley, who live in St. Louis where Mr. Crowley is managing editor of a newspaper, the Post-Dispatch.

It has been five years since Mrs. Grimes had the opportunity to "count noses" in the grand- and great-grandchildren department back there—this time she managed to visit all four grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Jerry, the huge Collie dog that is the constant companion of Mrs. Grimes and a familiar sight to local residents, kept his vacation within state boundaries by spending the three months at Oakland with Mrs. Lola Mackey, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Grimes.

Flora Morgan and Katherine Shannon recently entertained Coast Guard Lt. and Mrs. Henry Cassel, in their home on Muir Ave. Lt. and Mrs. Cassel were enroute to new duties in the Philippines, and having lived in this area five years ago, were very happy to renew old acquaintances during their brief stay here.

Robert M. Oaks of Long Branch Ave. did a repeat guest performance on the radio program, "Collectors Corner," this week.

The program is under the direction of Bill Whitehouse, who for a number of years made Ocean Beach his home, and prior to embarking on a career in radio, put in several years service in the police traffic department.

Oaks, who is also a musician, brought several seldom-heard records from his New Orleans Jazz collection for playing on the show.

Back in Ocean Beach after a two-and-one-half year absence are Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Keenan. Mr. Keenan, who owns the meat department at Duchess Market on Voltaire St., and his wife are very happy to be back in such a "friendly community."

Patricia Ann, their 14-year-old daughter, is staying with a married sister until finishing out the school year at Chula Vista High where she is in the 10th grade and on the drill team.

Lt. Comdr. USN and Mrs. J. S. Reedy, who have been the house guests of Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. James Sharp in their home on Moana Drive, have moved into their own place in the 900 block of Temple. The commander and his wife are originally from Pensacola, Florida, and have two children Pamela, 5, and Jay, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Quinn have moved into their very interesting self-designed home on Moana Drive. Mr. Quinn is sales manager for McKesson-Robbins Drugs and prior to this move they were located on Centraloma. They have a 10-year-old daughter, Shirley.

The Peninsula area is continuing to be the chosen location for many new home owners. Included in the list of newcomers are the names of Mr. and Mrs. Gary-Gonlang who have moved from Law St. to their own home on Santa Barbara.

Their 14-year-old daughter Sharon will continue schooling in the 9th grade of Jr. High at Pacific Beach, but at home to keep things in good spirits are the two-year-old twins Kristie and Gary.

Mrs. Edith Hall made a short move when she transferred from Adair St. into her newly-purchased home on Narragansett Ave.

Having been in this area before and liked it, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ybarrondo have invested in a two-unit apartment and will live in one at the rear of their property on Santa Monica Ave.

From the 1900 block on Chatsworth Blvd. to their own home on the 4300 block of Coronado Ave., was a short but happy move for Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Crummer and their three-year-old daughter, Karen.

Lt. (jg) USN, and Mrs. S. B. Wilson, and their three-year-old son, Joe, have moved into their new home on the 4400 block of Tivoli St.

Very happy at the prospect of having a play area for their 20-months-old son, Richard, are Lt. USN and Mrs. J. S. Courtney, who are now living in the 4700 block on Pescadero.

Happy to find such a lovely home in an area near other family members are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch who have recently moved into their own place in the 4400 block on Cape May Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pegues, and their two children, Jeanne, 9, and Johnny, 6, are happily moving their things out of storage to settle down in a home of their own on Jennings.

WHO'S NEW IN POINT LOMA

Director of the San Diego Art Gallery, Warren Beach, and Mrs. Beach have bought a home in the 3700 block of Pio Pico St. The Beaches have three children, David, 13; Richard, 10; and Margaret, 6. They formerly lived in Columbus, Ohio.

Michael Sweetman, student at Santa Monica Junior College, spends week-ends here, helping his mother, Mrs. H. H. Sweetman, get settled in their new home on Wisteria Drive. They moved to Loma Portal from La Jolla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams, 4786 Niagara St., have moved into their new Fleetridge home in the 1500 block of Chatsworth Blvd. They have two doughters, Christine, 9, and Cynthia, 6. Mr. Williams is an engineer for the telephone company.

After 46 years in Ocean Beach, Mrs. H. S. Cliff, 4739 Narragansett Ave., found it hard to move away. She's living now with her daughter, Mrs. Lottie C. Wight, who bought a home in the 700 block of Silvergate Ave. Mrs. Cliff. who was born in France, came to San Diego in 1886. She owned one of the first beach cottages in the Peninsula area.

From Monte Vista, California come Mr .and Mrs. H. L. Strickland, who have moved into their brand new home on Fenelon St. in Fleetridge. Mr. Strickland is a retired auto agency owner.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Burdick and their four children are at home now in the 3500 block of Udal. The family comes from North Hollywood. Mr. Burdick is a cost estimator for a local aircraft company. The children are: Joan, 17; Kenny, 15; Norman, 9, and Diane, 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kerr, Jr. of 3949 Del Mar St., have moved into their new home on Chatsworth Blvd. in Fleetridge. They have two children, Dennis, 10, and Cheri, 5. Mr. Kerr is a design engineer for a local aircraft company.

The San Diego Delphian Club will meet Friday morning, March 2, at 10 o'clock at the Wednesday Clubhouse, 540 Ivy Lane. Miss Paula Sabian, a senior at San Diego College for Women, will speak on "The Hudson River." The Kappa Group will be hostesses.

Only 1.5 million marriages occurred in 1955, as compared with 2.3 million in postwar 1946. But by 1960, there will be a new wave of marriages resulting from the boom in births in the 40's. About 2 million a year.—The Kiplinger Letter.

Surface Fishing Tests Set At Coronado Islands

All eyes will be trained on the Coronado Islands this week, where deep sea anglers will be making the first surface fishing tests of the spring season and how successful they prove will determine how soon the full scale quest of yellowtail and other top water game fish will be launched.

Lynn McClure's Lo-An took first crack at the yellows today and Bill Poole's Polaris will take the second shot Saturday at 6 a.m. Other boats are standing by, ready to follow in their wake at a moment's notice if conditions seem to warrant it.

First yellowtail were taken last spring on March 8 under very similar conditions, and prospects for turning up surface fish this week appear good to excellent. A good showing of early fish would send the 10th annual Yellowtail Derby off to a flying start on March 31.

In the meantime, bottom fishermen are going serenely about their pleasure and making the most of their opportunities by racking up excellent catches of red cod, chilipeppers, cow cod, and ling at every outing. Ocean Beach-Point Loma rod and reelers who fared exceptionally well include: Glenn Stelling, J. Nault, Leonard Cunningham, Arthur Clarke, and Bill Storey.
